Millions Spent to Make Clean Beer

Cleanest Manufacturing Process Is That of An American Brewery.

We regard beer as a food and the business of brewing beer one of our most important industries. When we tell our readers that without exception there is no other brewery in the world so absolutely clean in its process of manufacture as Pabst, we speak from exact knowledge of conditions. The monster Pabst Brewery at Milwaukee represents an outlay of millions of dollars and many of those millions have been expended to make the Pabst exclusive process absolutely clean. Pabst Beer stands alone today, the only food product that from the beginning to the end of its manufacture is absolutely beyond reach of even the contaminating germs of the air. Doctors boil their instruments in water to sterilize them. Pabst boils his brew in closed kettles and thus sterilizes it. From there it passes through sterilized pipes to sterilized hermetically sealed tanks where it is fermented. Then through more sterilized pipes it goes to sterilized hermetically sealed storage tanks and when bottled it is pasteurized. Throughout the entire process it never is touched by human hands and comes in contact only with sterilized air. This process of manufacture is the exclusive Pabst method. It is one reason for the "Pabst" name, always the best reputation of Pabst Beer. The cleanest beer and the richest flavored Pabst Beer has no equal in the world. It is brewed only from Pilsen eight-day malt, choicest hops and pure water. Pabst eight-day malt, the perfect malt, contains all the food qualities of the finest barley in production. It is this rich food value and the exclusive process of brewing, and thoroughly aging the beer that gives Pabst Beer its rich, mellow flavor, its refreshing zest.

Rumors Concerning Orient.

F. F. Childers arrived from San Angelo Wednesday. He says work on the Orient between Sweetwater and San Angelo is practically suspended for want of labor, nearly all the hands having quit railroading to pick cotton, of which the crop in that section is enormous. Work will be resumed after cotton picking is over but it will not be possible to finish the grade according to the contract. Mr. Childers has put all his teams on a freight line from Bronte to Ballinger, having found this more profitable than railroading. Mr. Childers says the talk now is that the road will be extended south from San Angelo and to hasten the completion of the main line the track of the T. & P. will be used from Sweetwater to Monahans, and a line will be built to connect with the main line as heretofore located, at Fort Stockton or some point near it. Whence it will proceed along the main line by Alpine to El Oro on the Rio Grande. The object of this, if the report be true, is to save time. The part of the main line between San Angelo and Fort Stockton will be built afterward.

It will be noted that Mr. Childers does not claim to have reliable information that the Orient people have changed their plans; he simply repeats the talk he heard in the construction camps and on the streets. Everyone can consider these rumors of little or much importance according to his judgment and inclination—Sweetwater Reporter.

Fire Insurance Adjuster Here.

Robert S. Pierce, of Dallas, was in San Angelo last week for two or three days adjusting recent fire losses. Mr. Pierce is a general adjuster. Losses in the Bob Low fire in Ft. Concho, Mrs. Veck's residence on Concho avenue and the four room house of Mr. Wakefield, in North San Angelo, were all adjusted while Mr. Pierce was in the city, a full allowance being made in each case.

The Ideal Family Laxative

is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose, always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. Have been in use 50 years over a century and are sold in every drug store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Lynn Bros. sells new and second hand furniture. See them before buying. They also have a first class mechanic and do all kinds of repair work at reasonable prices.

BLACK TONGUE DISTASTROUS TO DEER

Traveler from Southwest Texas Reports Contagious Malady Severe. Venison is Scarce.

E. L. Wutzke returned last week from an overland trip through the country south and southwest of San Angelo. Mr. Wutzke visited Del Rio and other southwestern towns, and went through some excellent hunting country. The artist reported an alarmingly large number of deer to be dying in the Uvalde country from black tongue. He said that venison was extremely scarce in parts of that section where heretofore it was plentiful. Mr. Wutzke said that one ranchman told him there were seven grown black tails dead in his pasture and that other residents of Uvalde county told him of discovering numbers of fine looking bucks and does dead from the same cause.

"One has to be careful about eating venison," said he, continuing that it is difficult to tell what a fat venison slaughtered by a rifle, already had the dread malady. This is indeed a sad state of affairs, and will probably put a damper upon deer hunting expeditions that have been planned for this winter. Mr. Wutzke was of the opinion that there would be comparatively few deer left in the hunting grounds of Texas, by the first of the year, if the present plague of black tongue does not desist.

The disease is a mystery and cannot be accounted for. It seems to be doing as much damage to deer, as the dreaded pink eye among horses and mules in West Texas two years ago. It is strange that cattle have not become infected with the deadly ailment.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.

Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by Central Drug Store, N.

Somebody's Careless Shooting.

Louis Heitzler, the butcher, has a man and his family living on the Heitzler place southeast of the forks of the Conchos, near the slaughter pen. One day last week a man and lady were out walking along the North side of the river, and the man had a small rifle of some sort. A little boy was playing around the house on the south side of the Main Concho, when a bullet struck the weather boarding of the dwelling. Then another zip-zipped and whistled through the air over the house.

The little boy was terribly frightened and ran into the house crying to his mother that he had been shot. It was a case of wanton carelessness on the part of the person doing the shooting. The rifle ball which imbedded itself in the side of the house might have done fatal damage. A person should have a little common sense about the use of a gun, before allowing himself to "go huntin'". You can't be too careful.

A Doctor's Medicine

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is not a simple cough syrup. It is a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine. It cures hard cases, severe and desperate cases, chronic cases of asthma, pleurisy, bronchitis, consumption. Ask your doctor about this.

"I have used a great deal of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and hard colds on the chest. It has always done me great good. It is certainly a most wonderful cough medicine."—MICHAEL J. FROST, Medical, N. J.

A True Story of a Big Thomas Cat in North San Angelo.

Ed M. Taylor, the barber on the first chair at Bob Balfanz' shop, tells a fine story about a thomas cat out at his house. The cat has a nose for business and is always poking it into something.

The other night one of the children left a large goblet or glass on the dining table containing a few bread crumbs and a small decoction of milk. After everybody had gone to bed and to sleep, this old thomas cat jumped up on the table, stuck his head in the glass by degrees. The top of the glass being somewhat smaller than the middle, caused the cat to force his Adam's apple a little. When the said cat cleaned up the bread and milk and tried to pull his head out he found that it wouldn't work. He slipped his head and ears in all right, but when he went to lift his head out, his head seemed to catch just behind his ears. His tail swelled up like a bologna sausage and his head filled that tumbler like hot lead. The cat began to spin around like a top and to break up the china. Tom jumped off the table and hit the floor a-running, carrying the glass on his head. The cat saw what he thought was an open door through the bottom of the goblet and made a dash for a fresh-air excursion. The door happened to be screened, and when the feline hit the wires he turned a hand-spring and lit a running in the opposite direction, and then around the room he scampered and looked like a stick of black licorice. By this time Ed had lighted the lamp and saw what it was. He grabbed the cat's tail that was balanced up behind to keep it from breaking its neck while running. He pulled so hard that he drew the skin over its eyes so tight the cat was blinded, and then Ed got a hatchet and broke the glass, and now Tom is spending his evenings out in a big mesquite thicket.

Bilious Attack Quickly Cured.

A few weeks ago I had a bilious attack that was so severe I was not able to go to the office for two days. Failing to get relief from my family physicians treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man.—H. C. Bailey, Editor of the News, Chapin, S. C. These tablets are for sale by all druggists. Nov

A Michigan paper wound up a compliment to a young school-ma'am with a good word about "the reputation for teaching she bears." The next day the young school-ma'am met the editor and chased him down the street with an umbrella, and at every jump in the road she screamed that she had never taught a she-bear in her life.—Exchange.

Croup.

A reliable medicine and one that should always be kept in the home for immediate use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will prevent the attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears. For sale by all druggists. Nov

Dairy and Food Commission's Report.

The Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission's analysis shows that Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar contained opiates and croton oil. Opiates are poisons and croton oil is a violent poisonous purgative. Refuse to accept any but Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates or poisonous drugs and is the best cough and cold cure. Central Drug Store. Nov

Comical Occurrence at Smoke House.

One of the most laughable farce-comedies ever seen in San Angelo, happened in the Smoke House election night, just a few minutes before 12 o'clock. When the first alarm of fire for the Auger residence in North San Angelo, was turned in, Deputy Marshal Carroll Bates and Clinton Anderson, of The Angelo restaurant force, ran into the street in front of the Smoke House and began a fusillade of shots with six-shooters to assist in the alarm.

Many Quail Hunters.

Many parties from San Angelo are making inroads into the coveys of Mexican blue quail and Bob Whites that abound in the country around San Angelo. Good kills have been made by many, although the wily birds are reported pretty wild. Be careful that you don't get into posted pastures, and refrain from filling some tormented bull's eyes with chilled number sevens, as at that rate your birds will cost you more than two cents apiece.
